This book is written for undergraduate students (B.A. 1st Year / B.A. 1st Semester) and is a small attempt to provide a basic understanding of the fundamentals of Political Science and their application in the Indian context.

Workshops, Conference, National and International Seminars:

1. Organizing Workshops:

- I have conducted several workshops in political science, focusing on both theoretical aspects and contemporary political issues. These workshops aim to enhance students' learning and promote a deeper understanding of political ideologies, systems, and governance.
- Issues such as electoral system, federalism, democracy, human rights, environment, sustainable development and role of international organisations etc. were also discussed in the workshops.

2. Seminars and Conferences (ICSSR sponsored and others):

- Actively participated, presented papers and contributed to National (11) and International Seminars (4), Webinars (12) and Workshops (Regional/National/International 3) discussing topics related to social justice, Indian politics and global governance.

- These events have provided me with a platform for academic exchange and have contributed to the academic development of both me and the students.

Skills & Expertise

Teaching and Mentoring:

- Expertise in delivering lectures, conducting seminars and guiding students in their academic research.
- To provide moral guidance and skills to the students to excel in their academic life and prepare them for future challenges in the field of Political Science.

Research Papers and Articles:

- Specializes in conducting in-depth research on political ideologies, governance and social justice.
- Strong academic writing skills with a focus on research papers, articles and books published in recognized journals and publications (UGC approved journals).

Leadership and Teamwork:

- Developed leadership skills as an NCC Officer, worked effectively with students to build team spirit, unity and discipline.
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills that facilitate productive teamwork and collaborative efforts within the department.

Future Goals and Objectives

Academic Development:

- Continue contributing to the academic and intellectual development of students by further improving the curriculum following the implementation of new teaching methods.
- To expand my research work by focusing on the political, social, economic ideologies of global leaders, ancient and modern political philosophers and their relevance to contemporary politics.
- To make students understand the importance and relevance of “Indian Knowledge System” in the 21st century.

Community Engagement:

- Increase student participation in NCC and community service programs, fostering leadership qualities and social responsibility.
- Organize more workshops and seminars that bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical application in political science.

My professional journey as Assistant Professor in Political Science and NCC Officer has been satisfying in terms of academic contributions and student engagement. My goal is to continue to foster a dynamic learning environment for my students, even in the era of neo-liberalization and globalization, while furthering my research work in the field of political science. Through teaching, research and community engagement etc., I strive to contribute to the development of the academic community and responsible citizens.
